Best Way to Transfer Books to iPad on Mac

Want to send a book to another iPad from Mac in the most convenient and efficient way? AirDrop makes it easy! Beyond doubt, AirDrop is the best way to let you quickly and easily transfer files between iPhones, iPads, and Macs. However, you must make sure the ebooks are DRM free before the transfer. Or the transferred books can't be viewed by any app on your iPad. Here's how to use AirDrop to transfer books from Mac to iPad.

Remove DRM from eBooks on Mac

Generally, eBooks purchased from mainstream stores, like Amazon/Kobo/Nook/Google Play store, etc, are protected by Digital Rights Management (DRM). DRM protects books from unauthorized copying, therefore, we need to remove DRM from eBooks before sharing.
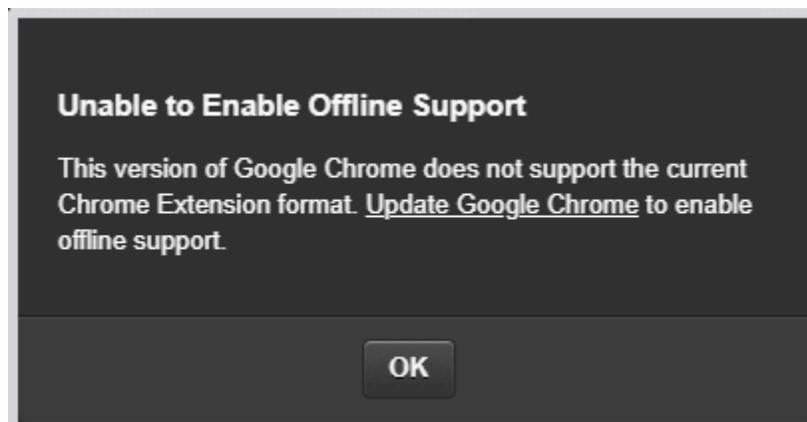

How to Remove DRM from Kindle Books?

There are two great Epubor software which can help you remove Kindle DRM easily.

Tool one – Epubor KCR Converter

Step 1 Install Kindle Cloud Reader extension to Chrome browser to enable offline reading.

Tip: If you are told that you are unable to enable offline reading. Please make sure you have added Kindle Cloud Reader extension to Chrome browser.

Step 2 Log in your Kindle Cloud Reader on the latest version of Chrome browser to download and pin books.

Step 3 Use Epubor KCR Converter to export Kindle books from Kindle Cloud Reader.

Install Epubor KCR Converter to your computer.
